Providing a Strong Foundation for the Next Generation of Bankers

Register online: www.bankerscontent.com/25mdp

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

WBA's Management Development Program (MDP) is an excellent preparatory program for bank managers wishing to advance their careers. This is a class designed for those who have aspirations of broadening their understanding of the key success elements required to manage a successful banking organization. Some MDP graduates go on to enroll in the WBA's more advanced Executive Development Program.

THE BIG PICTURE: TODAY'S COMPETITIVE BANKING ENVIRONMENT

April 16, 2025 • 8:30 - 10:30 a.m.; 1:00 - 3:00 p.m.
April 17 • 8:30 - 11:30 p.m.

All times listed in PT

Banking today is a challenging, competitive and ever-changing industry. What worked in the past may not work going forward. This challenging landscape requires leaders and managers who can create an environment in which their employees not only perform, but also grow and develop into the leaders of tomorrow. The market is crowded with multinational, regional and community banks, not to mention credit unions and non-bank competitors. What do bankers need to do to keep the confidence of the American people and their local communities? How can banks attract and retain the best and brightest talent available? The second half of the day will be spent reviewing the learning methodology of the Management Development Program, discussing the role of the mentor relationship, reviewing program expectations and more.

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS

Discuss critical issues facing the banking industry today, including:

- Reduction of the number of banks in the U.S.
- The impact of shrinking margins on bank profitability
- Impact of a changing bank environment
- Finding talented employees for your bank's continued success
- Changing customer expectations and how they are utilizing bank services today

PROJECT MANAGEMENT FUNDAMENTALS

June 12, 2025 • 8:30 - 10:30 am; 1:00 - 3:00 pm
June 13, 2025 • 8:30 - 11:30 am

There is a significant correlation between an organization's ability to navigate project management and its financial performance. With financial institutions, it seems that all departments and divisions are required to navigate project management in an effective and efficient manner, as we face industry challenges and change. This course will provide an overview of the project management process, along with providing foundational skills and concepts to allow managers to navigate this process while taking a leadership position within their institution.

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS

- Define key project management terms and foundational concepts relevant to navigating projects within financial institutions.
- Explain the stages of the project management process and their importance in achieving organizational goals in a financial institution.
- Apply foundational project management techniques to a simulated financial institution project to demonstrate effective problem-solving and decision-making skills.
- Evaluate a case study of a project within a financial institution to identify challenges, propose solutions, and recommend strategies for leading successful outcomes.

HOMWORK AND MENTORS

Participants are required to complete monthly assignments. This prepares them to best understand the topics, challenges them to be proactive in their learning, and to seek out the advice of key individuals within their own institution when needed. This program also includes a strategic project, specific to each individual and worked on throughout the course. Mentors are a required part of the program, and act as a sounding board to assist in understanding new concepts.

HIGH-IMPACT DEVELOPMENT CONVERSATIONS

July 10, 2025 • 8:30 - 10:30 am; 1:00 - 3:00 pm
July 11, 2025 • 8:30 - 11:30 am

The quality of our conversations directly impacts the quality of our leadership. This session will introduce a simple and highly effective approach to any conversation with opportunities for practice in the areas of coaching, giving and receiving feedback, and delegation. You will learn techniques for overcoming defensiveness, asking powerful questions to discover underlying needs, and how to strengthen relationships, even during challenging conversations.

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS

In order to build your ability to produce results you need to:

- Learn a simple and powerful framework for any leadership conversation.
- Develop skills to strengthen your coaching approach.
- Explore barriers to difficult conversations and how to overcome them.
- Practice models for receiving and providing difficult feedback.

EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT AND CUSTOMER SERVICE: THE IMPORTANCE OF THEIR LINK TO BANK PROFITABILITY

September 11, 2025 • 8:30 - 10:30 am; 1:00 - 3:00 pm
September 12, 2025 8:30 - 11:30 am

There is an obvious disconnect between the service banks think they are providing and the reality of what customers experience. No banks appear on the lists of the top service providers in the United States. Yet when bank employees are asked to rate the customer service level of their bank they are consistently rating themselves highly. Banks aren't alone in this misperception. In the U.S. today, 80 percent of companies think they provide good service, but only 8 percent of their customers agree. But this disconnect can be especially harmful because we have limited opportunities to interact with our customers – many only visit their banks six times a year! Correcting these issues requires a workforce that is highly engaged. Research proves that companies with highly engaged employees beat the market and their peers when it comes to profitability. So how can bank managers engage their employees, produce excellent customer service and in turn enhance our profitability?

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS

Learn how to take your bank's service to the next level by:

- Analyzing what top service providers do differently to make a significant impact in service quality
- Assessing a bank's service levels and comparing them to service leaders
- Identifying key service metrics
- Shopping and measuring what the competition is providing vs. these metrics
- Discussing the impact an engaged workforce has on a bank's profitability
