

2019 FDIC Community Bankers Workshop

August 22, 2019

Washington Athletic Club • Seattle, WA

The 2019 Community Bankers Workshop is an interactive workshop designed to help bank executive and mid-level officers, both new and experienced, stay abreast of the ever-changing business, economic, and regulatory environment. The workshop will be led by seasoned risk management and compliance field examiners and supervisors from the San Francisco Region.

This year, the workshop is very much tailored to the particular location and anticipated audience size. The FDIC consulted local field supervisors and bankers regarding topics of interest in their geographical area. As such, topics will vary from location to location. The workshop will also include a local economic update presented by the FDIC's Division of Insurance and Research. Topics to be discussed include Bank Secrecy Act, CECL, CRA, consumer compliance hot topics, information technology and vendor management, liquidity and managing concentrations of credit.
